GOING IN STYLE

When one sees people in strange clothing, one says, "I'll never wear that!" In a few weeks you're wearing it and so are all your friends. Thus, a new fad takes shape.

Fads include hairstyles, music, movies, and words. "Yeah Buddy!"

The movie Urban Cowboy, brought on a whole new western style, including hats, boots, and clothes. Caddyshack brought on a hit song "I'm Alright" by Kenny Loggins.

Some styles are returning to "old" days when lace collars, ribbons, wool skirts, and argyle socks were in style.

Back on the scene again are French braids, baggy pants, blazers & jeans, sweatshirts, and socks with clogs.

The World Here And Now

DCHS Students Respond To The Issues.

Unfinished homework, pop quizzes, and lost ballgames. These seemed to be the biggest problems facing a student at DCHS. However, many looked beyond those secure walls into that devastating world in which they would soon take part. They realized the importance of issues that would affect and be affected by them. Those students who were of voting age enthusiastically went to the polls to show their pride and concern for their country. "No matter what the problem, we are proud to be Americans."

Should women be able to hold the same jobs as men? Should women be drafted? One student gave the following comment: "I feel that women should be able to have any job that they feel that they can handle. However, some things, like being drafted and using guns at the front in the war are unreasonable."

E m p l o y m e n t

The beginning of the eighties found the unemployment lines getting longer and longer. There were not as many jobs available to teenagers and many students were concerned about their future. One made the comment: "We think it's hard to get a job now and help the family and save, it's going to be almost impossible for our children." Another said: "Even though you do make it through college, it doesn't assure you of a high paying career. Unless something changes, I feel there could be much internal rebellion due to the number of the unemployed."

1. The first step is to identify the problem. This involves understanding the current situation and the goals that need to be achieved.

2. Next, it is important to gather information. This can be done through research, interviews, and data analysis.

3. Once the information is gathered, the next step is to develop a plan. This plan should outline the steps that need to be taken to achieve the goals.

4. After the plan is developed, it is time to implement it. This involves putting the plan into action and monitoring progress.

5. Finally, it is important to evaluate the results. This involves comparing the actual results to the goals and identifying areas for improvement.

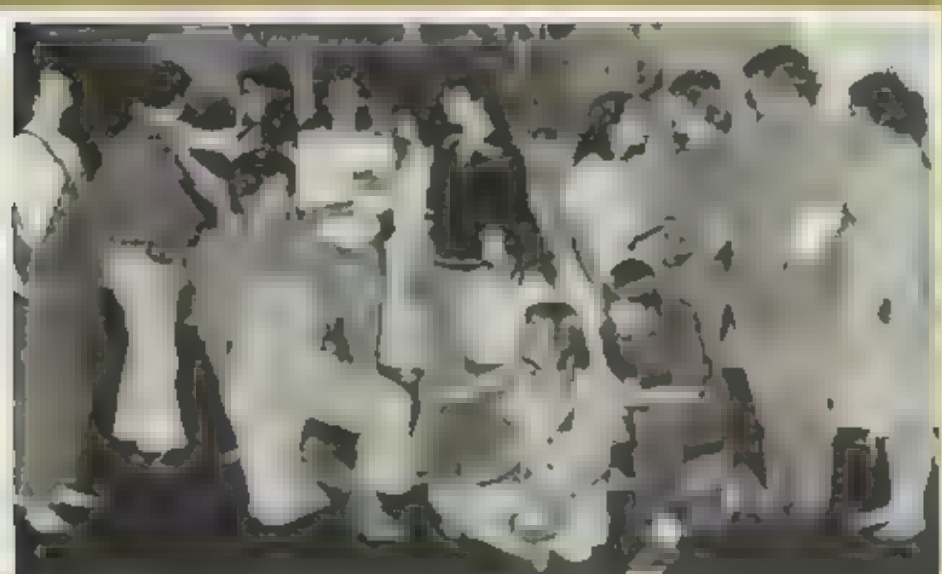

With the coming of the 1920's the industry is now a more serious assembly. Fewer papers are made through a two-year process, becoming less frequent. Most students were concerned to improve themselves, but could not abandon the grandeur of their

November 14, 15, and 16. A weekend filled with comedy and songs—a weekend to be remembered.

As the DCIS Little Theater stage was transformed to Dogpatch, U.S.A., the audience enjoyed watching the story of Abner Yokum and Daisy Mae Scragg in Norman Panama and Melvin Frank's production of Li'l Abner.

Director of the play, Morris Buck, worked for eight weeks with his largest cast and crew ever of over 60 students. The hard work and dedication of all showed through as Li'l Abner became a weekend success.

Homecoming 1980

Intensity mounted as the final two days of Homecoming came to an end. The last two days were "fun times." Thursday was Wild, Wild West Day and Friday a traditional Black 'n Gold Day.

On Friday all students were dismissed early to go to Riley Park for the start of the parade. Everyone marched uptown behind their class float for the pep rally.

Each class chose eight members to represent it in an "original" cheer. Juniors with their eight farm girls proceeded to take first in that event.

Unexpectedly the student body had the pleasure of being entertained by the Blues Brothers, The Fourz, Saturday Night Live's Coneheads, and even Dracula (alias the DCHS cheerleaders).

October 1, 1980: Homecoming game! That battle proved to very exciting as DCHS made their way off the field with a victory over the Twin Lakes Indians!

Seniors Represent DCHS

Boy's and Girl's Staters are Seniors chosen by the American Legion Posts and Auxiliaries in Camden and Delphi to attend Boy's and Girl's State at Indiana State University.

The week spend there was filled with speeches, campaigns, conventions, and elections. The time passed quickly but not too quickly to make many strong friendships never to be forgotten. Those who emerged from the program found their lives enriched by the experience. (R)

Each Tuesday two Senior boys mysteriously disappeared during the lunch hour to attend Rotary luncheons. Two Seniors were chosen monthly on the basis of scholastic ability and leadership to represent DCHS as Junior Rotarians.

1. Boy's and Girl's Staters Row 1: T Roberson, S Clifford. Row 2: D Gribben, T Moore, D Harford, S Hoffman. 2. Who's Teaching Who

Students are expected to play the role of asking questions, but there comes a time when questions must be answered. 1 seniors scheduled one hour each day to perform as "teacher." They taught under the direction of Mr. David Beale, at Camden and Hillcrest Elementary Schools. The young exploratory teachers met regularly to discuss problems they encountered and to share their sometimes pleasant experiences. These fledgling teachers found it was quite rewarding to teach the children and equally so to learn from them.

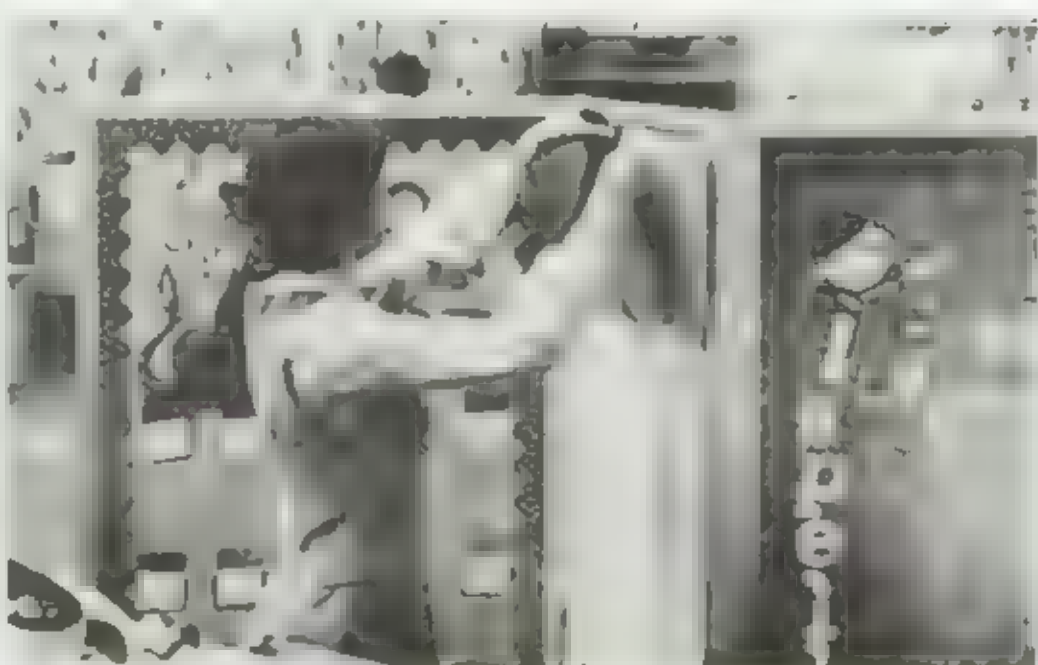

"By your students you shall be taught."

Jungle Fever

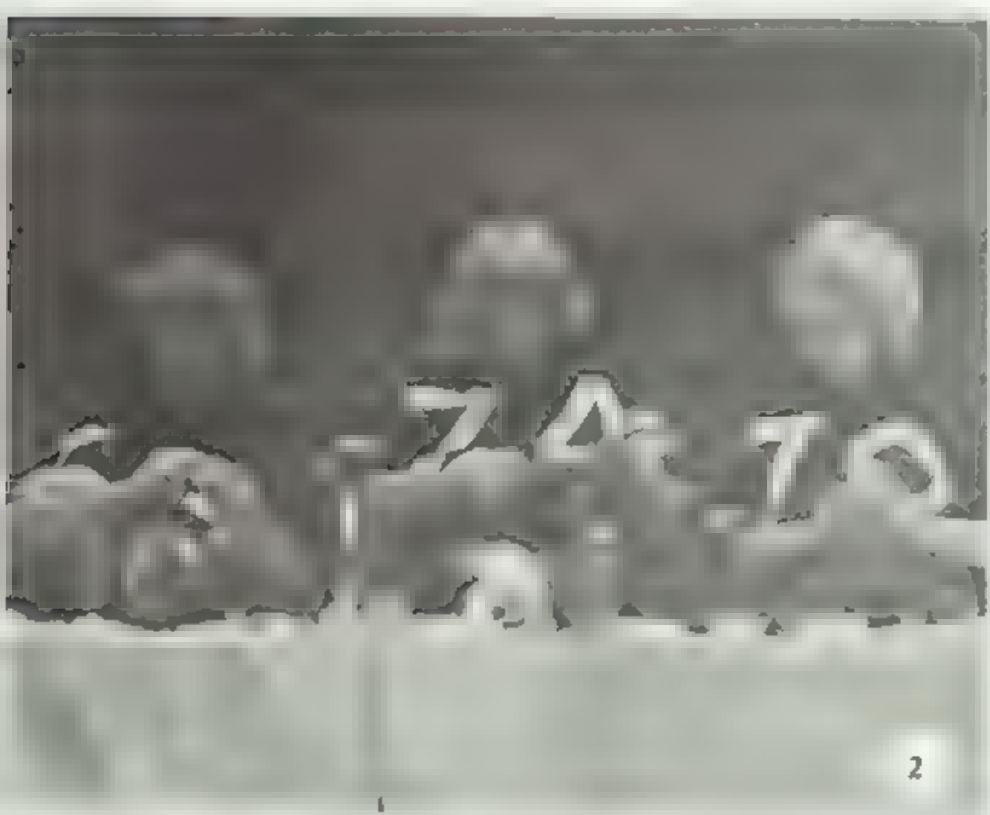

DCHS welcomed Mary Ellen Dwyer, potter, and JoAnn Chaney, fabric designer, to the Delphi Community Art Show. The theme chosen was Jungle Fever. Different drawings of safari animals and scenes from the jungle were displayed through out the show.

Art work from the students of Camden, Pittsburg, Hillcrest Elementary, the Middle School, and the High School were presented. The show also consisted of a variety of works from area and local artists. Many paintings, portraits, and modern designs were exhibited. rkf

Student Entertainment

Everyone needs a break now and then, including the hard working students at DCHS. Forms of entertainment such as convocations, pep sessions, and a variety show were presented to the student body throughout the 1980-81 school year. The DCHS cheerleaders organized victory cheers, a pie throwing contest, application of the afternoon makeup, and even a twinkie eating contest.

The Student Council organized a variety of different acts. They consisted of a pantomime and acrobatic acts, a presentation from Dr. Rhine on birth defects, and a special concert from the United State Air Force Band. Members of the student body also put together a Variety show and even organized their own Rock group. rkf

1. Mr. Howard Porks out on those good-ol-twinkies! 2. The Varsity Cheerleaders prepare themselves for a night on the town. 3. Tonya Garrison and Shannon Sullivan begin their future careers as acrobats. 4. Words are not needed to explain just how heavy this wall was

DRACULA

THE VAMPIRE PLAY

"Good evening," was the Count's famous line, and a very good evening it was as DCHS theater's department presented the renowned classic, Dracula. Director Morris Buck introduced a new flair at DCHS by double casting the title role, putting Keene Red Elk in for the Saturday performance and Phil Johns for Sunday matinee. There was also double casting for the part of Lucy Seward-played by Cindy Hinkle and Sherri Duff. Major parts filled by single performers were those of Doctor Seward, Jonathon Harker, and Professor VanHelsing, were played by Jennifer Dittman, Tim Phillips, and Ron French, respectively. Dan Smith had the role of Butterworth, the asylum's caretaker, and Diane Brenneman, that of Miss Wells, the maid. Through all rehearsals, both planned and last-minute on weekends and school vacations, Assistant Director Laurie Sprague put the cast through its paces and kept a semblance of order. The work paid off in the end when performances filled two houses and provided abundant entertainment on both sides of the lights. TdP

Sailing On The Waves Of Time

Sailing on the Waves of Time ... entering the school into a world of nautical fantasy, guests at the prom displayed amazement at their transformation to a tropical island. The theme was carried out by various oceanic sceneries. The entertainment was provided by The News.

The Juniors started to decorate after school on Friday. Finishing Saturday afternoon, they were amazed that the job was finally completed after long months of preparation.

The night went on Post Prom was an enjoyable evening of dancing and games. A Los Vegas setting, by the seniors' parents, went over well. Epoch provided the music for the night ss

May 17, 1981

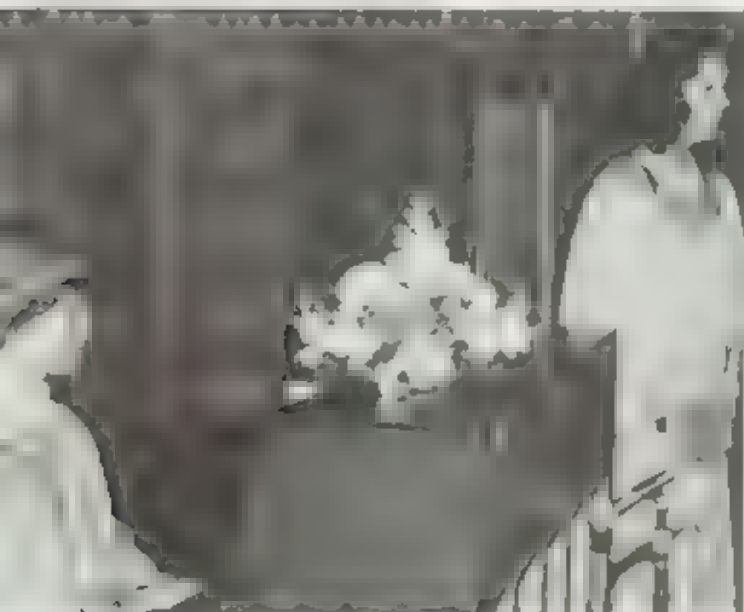

After twelve years of anticipation and preparation, Graduation Day finally arrived for the Class of 1981. As seniors gathered for the ceremony, many tearfully reflected on years past. The days and hours spent within the walls of DCHS would soon be treasured memories

As the graduates made their way down the aisle to the strains of the traditional "Pomp and Circumstance," a feeling of nervous pride was felt by all.

Valedictorian Doug Gribben addressed the class on the "Three Keys" to success, and Salutatorian John O'Neill spoke on "Yesterday's Reflections." The class song, "Old Days" was performed by Laurie Sprague and Robyn Hughes. Proud parents and teachers watched as each grad received a diploma and embarked upon the never-ending journey into Tomorrow. Truly in the heart of each graduating class member was engraved the class motto, "TOMORROW WILL BE THE REFLECTION OF YESTERDAY'S DREAMS AND TODAY'S DEDICATION." Sd

Junior Steve Norfleet concentrates on his American Lit. assignment. 4. Calling his class to order is Mr. Buck. 5. Former DCHS student, Miranda Mears, tells of her adventures in New Zealand. 6. Utilizing every moment of work time, Christy Flora and Sandy Scott catch up on their reading. 7. Under the watchful eye of Mrs. Alvarez, Debbie Schafer diagrams a sentence.

Just as all things change, so did the English classes at DCHS. The first two R's, Readin' and Ritin' have been replaced by Novels, Short Stories, Composition, and Creative Writing. Not to mention American Literature, Bible Lit., Senior Lit., and Advanced Composition. The scope of the English department has expanded greatly in the past few years. To break the monotony of basic grammar, as found in English 9 and G.V.W., more exciting classes have been added. Stage Craft was a class in which students could use their imagination and their hands to build a stage set for an upcoming play. Sophomores had the chance to express themselves verbally in Speech. The newest addition to the English Department was Humanities. Students in this class learned to appreciate theatre, dance, art, and music as well as literature

Mr. Reagan Goes to Washington

In 1980-81 students lived history as well as studied it. The teachers of the History Department-Mr. Beale, Mr. Lichtenberger, Mr. Miller, and Mr. Seurnyck-guided students through the past and made them aware of happenings of the present.

Sophomores traveled far and abroad learning of world situations as they studied World History. Juniors, studying American History, explored America's past and discovered great patriots that made our country what it is today. In order to graduate, Seniors had to take Government and one semester of either Psychology, Sociology, or Economics. Thus, they were better prepared for their venture into the outside world

Calculus students gather around Mr. Wilcox to engage in a bit of "Tom" foolery, thus breaking the monotony of class time 4. A homework assignment requires concentration from Trig. students. 5. Numbers create thinking, good thinking gives positive results. 6. One of Mr. Mathis's math students finds that a place in the corner is best for his problem $AX + BY + C = 0$. Sounds foreign, right? Actually it's not alien at all. It's an equation that everyone in algebra should know. Each form of math has its own particular "language" and anyone involved must learn to "speak" it fluently.

The math department contained classes designed to suit individual needs. These classes were Intro to Algebra, Algebra I, Algebra II, Basic Math, General Math, Business Math, and Geometry. The more advanced classes were Algebra III, Trigonometry, Calculus, and Analytic Geometry. A new class, added in January 1981, was the Program of Computer Science. No matter what the interest, DCHS had a math class waiting to meet the challenge.

Telescope Adds New Dimension

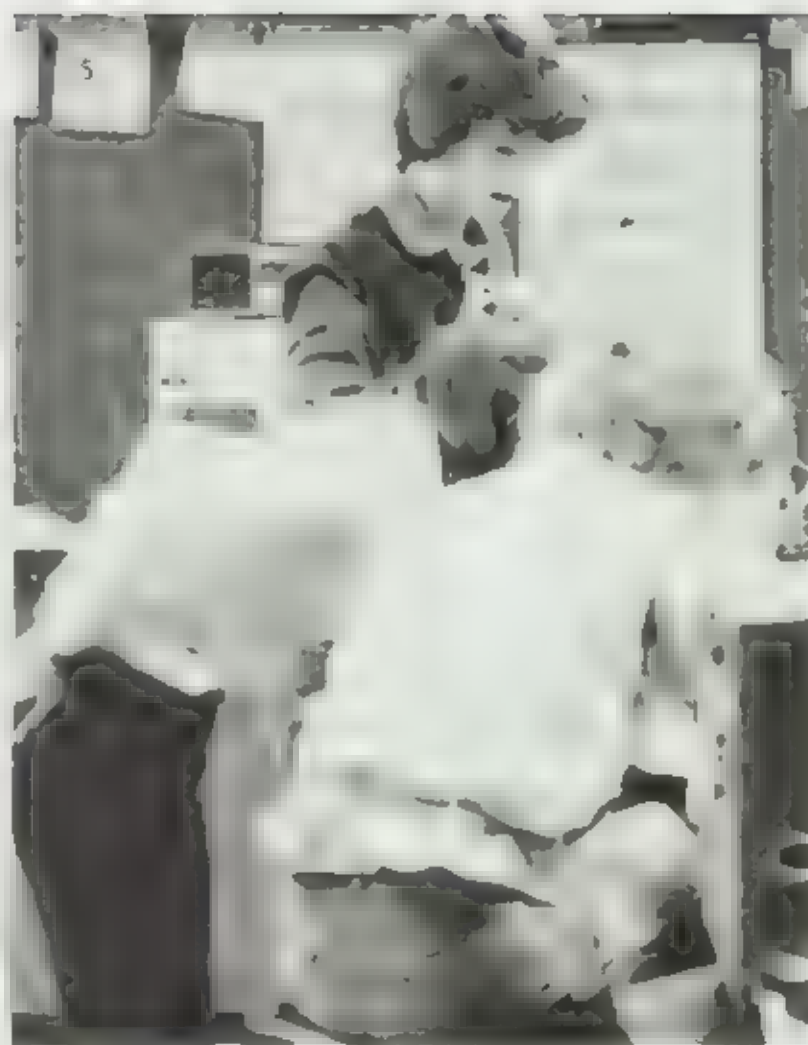

In the rooms of DCHS's science wing, students studied the mysteries of the universe. Under the competent guidance of the science teachers, students in basic biology, basic chemistry, biology, chemistry, advanced biology, advanced chemistry, and physics explored and questioned the same things scientists have questioned for years.

A welcome addition to the science department was the telescope loaned to the school by The Reverend Ray Nelson. This enabled students to see more closely the universe around them

Hola-Hello

Foreign language can be a very helpful subject. For some, all it means is another credit toward college, but, for others it can open new doors and opportunities for the future. Miss Linda Lewellen and Mr. Abe Alvarez were the respected teachers of DCHS foreign language. They took on the task of instructing their pupils in the proper way to speak the language they were studying. The students prepared for a journey to go to the country where the language they learned was spoken. The classes used the lab, played Scrabble, and other games. They also transcribed story books to present to their class.

Stepping Into The Challenging Business World

A Business Axiom ...

A business axiom: If you are to succeed in the business world, you must learn to follow instructions. The ability to follow instructions is an important step up the promotion ladder.

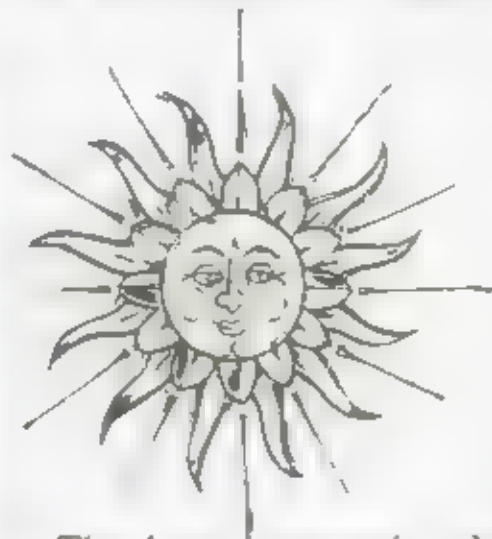

The business wing was an active place where students could sharpen any or all business skills.

Mrs. Edna Grimm, department chairman, Mr. Mike Lane, and Mrs. Carol Wolfe, educated students in subjects such as Typing, Shorthand, Office Procedures, Business Law, Accounting, and General Business. Students of these classes had a chance to set goals for themselves. Concentration and dedication proved to be key factors for those working to pass them. Although not everyone meets his or her goals, the satisfaction of knowing you tried helped build up self-confidence.

In April, business majors took a tour of the State Farm Insurance Agency in Lafayette. They were shown the various departments in the company, and saw the importance of data processing and other techniques used in the business world.

Home Ec Encourages Happy Home Life

The home economics department opens its doors wide to boys and girls to study in depth the many areas that make successful and happy homes.

Sewing and cooking classes make it possible to better understand food and dress. Much emphasized is the handling of finances in the home.

Child care study and family relationships create a new awareness of issues involved in healthy family life.

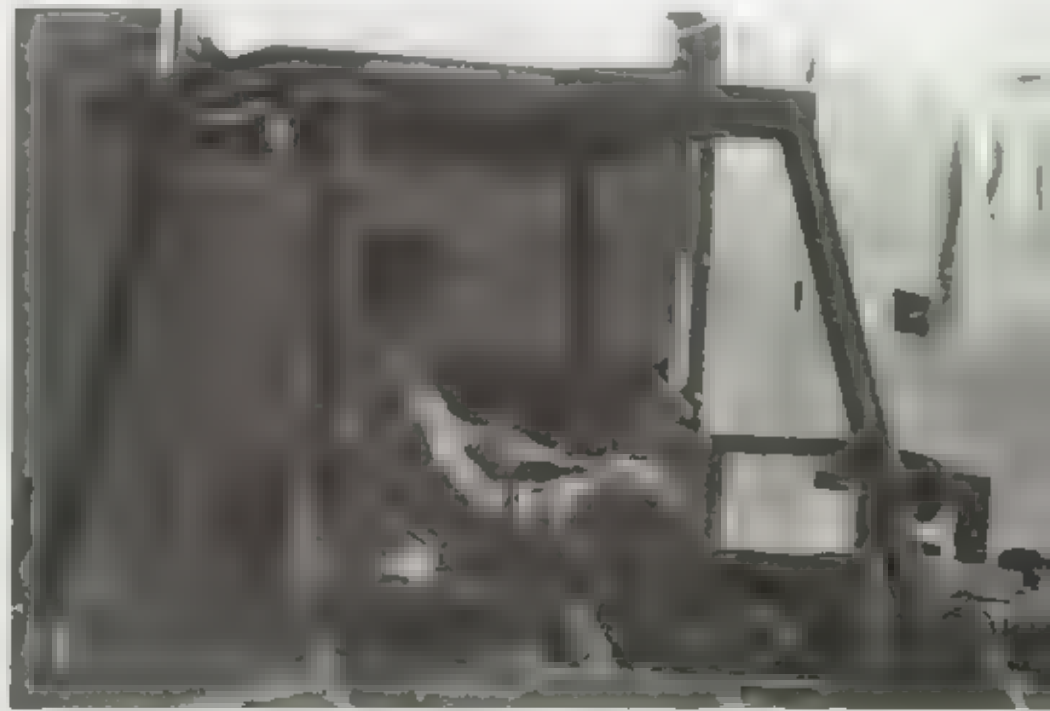

1. Good taste, good sewing techniques and good sewing machines help Kathe Lichtenberger create an attractive garment 2. A recheck of the measurements helps insure Tim Neal that the soup of the day will be properly seasoned. 3. Stirring and mixing the correct ingredients help Chris Justice and Diana Buchanon produce a mouth watering treat

Construction Started On New Ag Wing

Ag classes studied vegetable, animal and mineral
The studies in animal sciences were approached with scientific but practical terms. A thorough investigation was made into soil and crops. The great necessity of properly maintaining soil was much emphasized and a very complex but meaningful study of farm economics occupied an important place in learning

1. The importance of keeping good notes is emphasized in lecture lab 2. Proper handling and care of farm machinery was very much in evidence in machinery, large and small 3. Construction of the much needed and eagerly awaited new ag wing began early in the school year

Roar of the presses

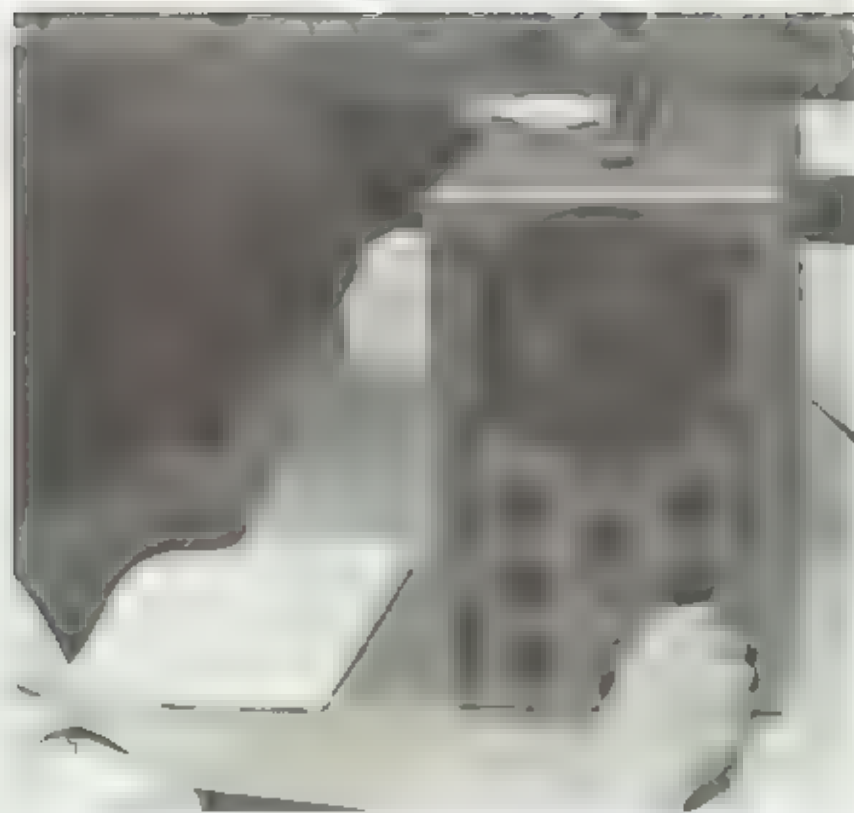

These sounds were heard all year round. Where were they coming from? After a tremendous search, these sounds were found to be coming from the class rooms of teachers John Beach, Bill Gray, and Neal Anderson. These three taught many students useful skills.

Mr. Beach taught his students to make recipe boxes, clocks, and the like

Mr. Gray used his talents to teach classes like auto mechanics, drafting, and metals.

Mr. Anderson, a graduate of DCHS himself, taught as a first year rookie the classes of powers, electricity, and graphic arts.

Constructors Of The Future

The learning of new skills and the feeling of accomplishment is what was in store for those who chose Building Trades. The buzzing of saws, pounding of hammers, and craftsmanship of the workmen were common scenes. The class was split into morning and afternoon sessions, each three hours long. Nine junior and ten senior boys participated in the construction of a modern home with Spanish style trimmings. Brick laying, installing plumbing and heating systems, and fine brush work were some of the trades mastered. Mr. James Sullivan was their instructor and gave demonstrations on what needed to be done. The young constructors worked hard and finished the "Español Casa" like professionals!

On The Job Training

FINDING THE RIGHT JOB ISN'T ALWAYS EASY-BUT PRE- PLANNING IN HIGH SCHOOL IS A GREAT AID

Finding the right job and beginning a future career were the plans for the students in Interdisciplinary Co-operative Education. Jobs were worked for at least 15 hours each week. The students held jobs in many different areas of employment. They learned about job hunting and applying, taxes and information in real estate. This class was organized to help students find the right job and to widen their possibilities in the planning of a future career. The young employees gained a lot of knowledge from their experience on the job!

Learning the functions of the human anatomy along with lessons in professional health care, were the subjects taught in Health Occupations. The class consisted of nine students, five of whom attended Carroll High School. After completing one full semester of class work, the students advanced to on the job training. The class then met on Fridays to consult with their instructor, Mrs. Overbeck

1. ICF students study their agenda for tomorrow's working day 2. Mrs. Overbeck demonstrates for the class, the proper way to apply a bandage 3. Health Occupation students study for a future exam

P.E. And Health Classes Find

Fitness Is #1 For DCHS Students

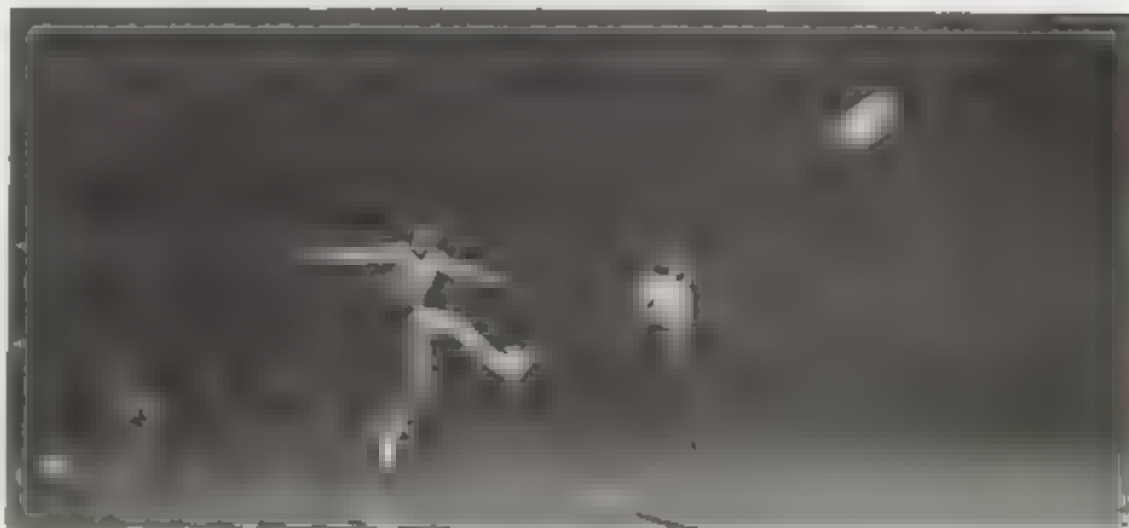

Students involved in P.E. had an active year as they were kept busy with athletics such as longball, water-polo, and handball.

Under the watchful eyes of newcomers Miss Karen Tiede, Mr. Martin Hanson, and Mr. Dwight Howard, and veterans Mr. Tony Berto and Mr. Phil Brummett, students learned the many varied rules and regulations of these numerous sports.

In the health classes first-aid, the effects of drugs and alcohol, and the study of vital parts of the body were among the many things studied by all involved

Jld

1. Members of advanced P.E. listen attentively as Mr. Berto explains a difficult maneuver. 2. Angie Brown contemplates her next move. 3. Somewhere under that pile of bodies is the ball. 4. Hud Pressler, Kirk Burge, and Jeff Huddleston prepare "Smoking Sam" for a demonstration on the effects of smoking. 5. Miss Tiede prepares for her next victim. 6. Kathy Powlen smashes a high lob out to centerfield. 7. Sonya Hudson flies over the horse while members of her class watch in amazement. 8. Members of a freshman class listen closely as Mr. Howard explains the rules of water-polo. 9. "I've got the ball-now what do I do with it?", seems to be running through Chris Koch's mind.

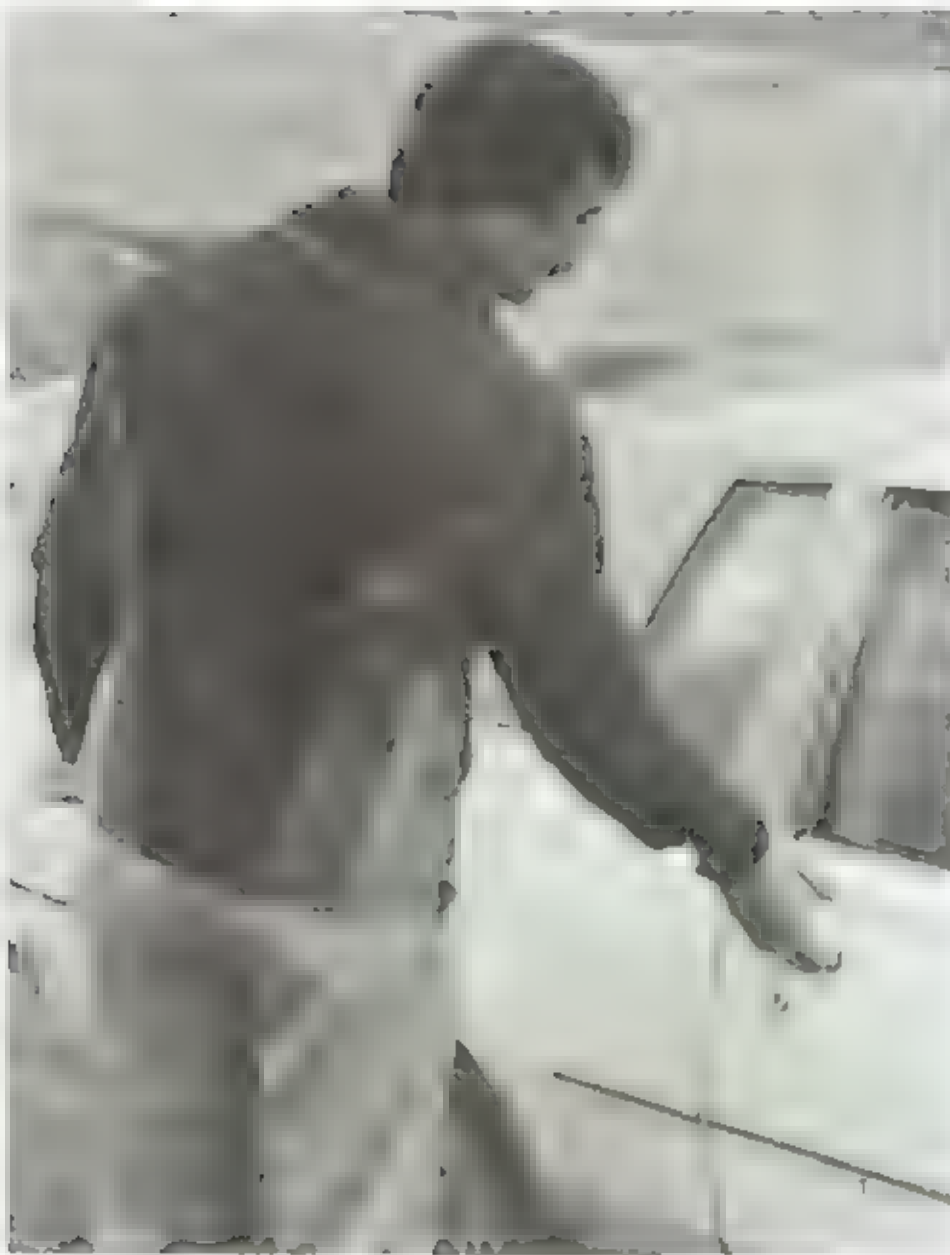

Drivers' Education Pays Off

"First you lock the door, then you adjust the seat so that you are comfortable, after that you set the mirrors, and finally, put on the shoulder strap and seat belt. Now insert the key and start the car." These were familiar words to everyone who took Drivers' Education during the 1980-81 school year. But this was only the beginning, from here the students learned much more about both driving and maintaining an automobile. The bookwork sometimes seemed both boring and unnecessary, but the thrill of driving in class, and the expectancy of receiving a much-coveted drivers' license helped to offset the drudgery of regular study. Under the able guidance of Mr. Phil Brummett, students labored through the books and sped (not literally) through their required driving lessons to finally succeed in earning their drivers licenses

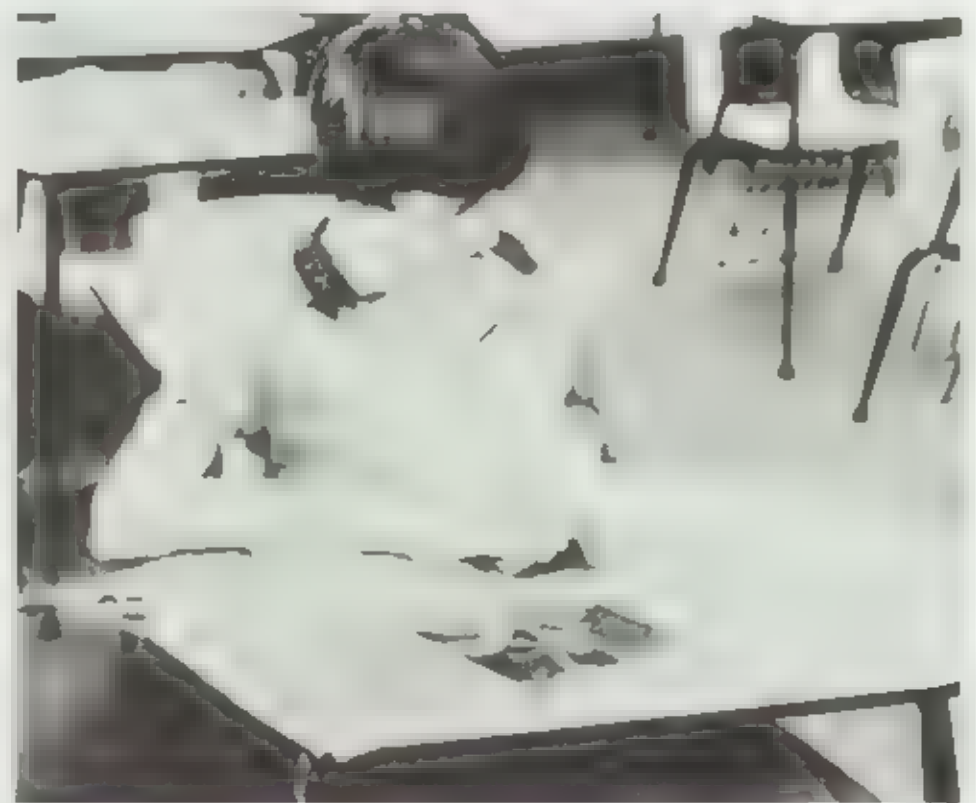

TdP

1. Does Mr. Brummett really know what he's risking to ride with a student driver? 2. "Am I ready to roll?" wonders Bonita Blocher 3. "Now I'm sure that key goes here SOMEPLACE!"

PVE-Pre-Vocational Education

Helping People To Help Themselves

PVE-short for "Pre-Vocational Education"-allowed students to gain valuable working experience both in and out of school, and eventually to earn a regular high school diploma upon graduation. The DCHS book-binding, which served the entire school corporation and the surrounding communities, was the main source for the in-school work. This, combined with some other opportunities outside the school, provided the students' practical experience. The regular classroom work was the same as any DCHS student would face; with the addition of some career-oriented work such as going through the "Help Wanted" columns of newspapers to look for a suitable job, filling out sample job applications, and practicing for personal interviews. PVE-preparing students for a useful part in today's society

TdP

1. Randy Rhodes wonders if his future will include hamburgers and French fries as he practices filling out an application for McDonald's. 2. Papers have more than just "Help Wanted" columns finds Gerald Atkinson as he looks over the sports page. 3. Stuck on a tough problem, Randy Rhodes calls over Jimmy Shockley to help him on it.

The Sound Of Music

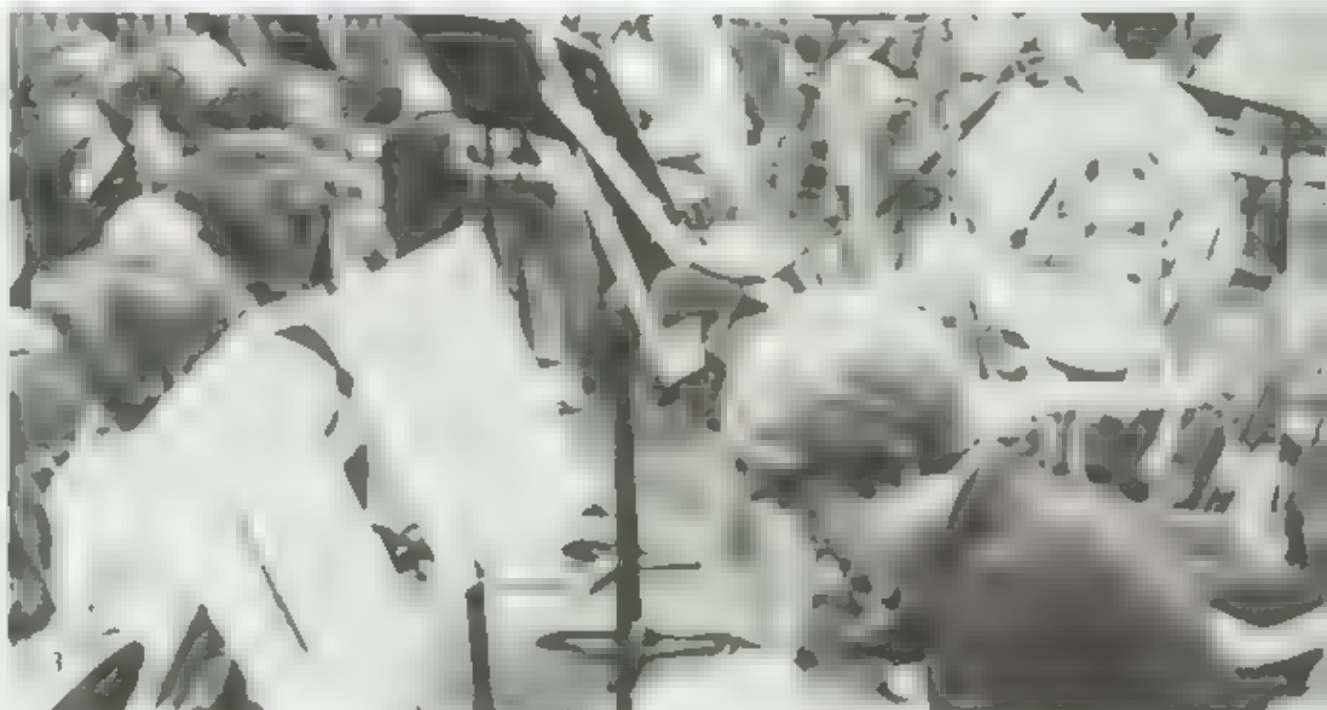

Beethoven? Bach? Mozart? Are these names familiar to you? These were used comfortably in the fine arts wing. The Music Department of DCHS grew enormously in the 1980-1981 school year.

Two new classes entered the DCHS spectrum. The Freshmen band had a full hour devoted solely for them. A period for the pop choir was developed to allow creation and betterment of programs for special performances.

For the first year DCHS hosted the annual Bi-County Festival. This program was a new undertaking for the Music Department. Managing approx. 550 students, the directors, Mr. Royce Armstrong and Mr. Kevin Kayser, did a good job

sS

1. Brenda George watches the notes go by. 2. Kathy and Anne are amazed with the music piece. 3. Steve Koch takes good care of his instrument. 4. Practice makes perfect. 5. Art Students Travel

1980-81 was a very active year for the DCHS Art Department. Among the in-class activities art students did, were pottery, silk-screening, and woodcarving. They also had the chance to expand their skills in sculpturing, stitching, and weaving. Art classes provided a time for students to relax and let their talents flow.

Several artists had the opportunity to use their talents in their extracurricular activities as well as in class. For instance, John Allen and Mike Floyd designed the posters advertising the two DCHS plays. Doing what she enjoys most, Pam Powlen put the girls Basketball Championship on a T-shirt, and senior Kathy Britton had the honor of creating the cover design for the graduation programs.

In order to give their students a deeper look at art, Mrs. Julie Heiner and Mr. Jack Sanders planned a variety of activities for their classes. They traveled to the Indianapolis Museum of Art to see the work of many famous artists. The advanced students had the opportunity to visit the Art Institute of Chicago. While in the "Windy City" they saw the famous sculptures by Picasso and Calder and a mosaic by Chagall. In the spring, the art department joined forces with local artists and presented the annual Art Show. All in all, the DCHS art students enjoyed a very busy and enlightening year.

As with every other fact of life, volleyball had its shares of positives and negatives. Rolling on the floor getting bruises, blistered feet and jammed fingers were some of the fringe benefits of playing volleyball. When the girls got that first bruise or jammed finger, they thought "No more!" But the more bruises and jammed fingers, the tougher the team became!

Lifting weights played a big part of the varsity team's development. The team showed steady improvement in becoming a "strong" team. With the new philosophy of head coach Karen Hanni and assistant Neal Anderson, the team proved to be successful. Improving last year's record of 6-7 was the girls' main ambition. Ending the season with a 7-7, and 2-3 in Conference play, the team reached their goal

Rounding out the junior varsity team were two juniors and six sophomores. Coached by first year amateur Neal Anderson the team had a successful season. Led by team captains Pam Powlen and Nancy Ives the girls managed to cash in an 11-5, and 4-3 record in conference play.

Frosh

Up and coming were the freshmen girls volleyball team. Being very successful in their season with a record of 7-2 the girls would be counted upon heavily in the 81-82 season.

Netters Ready to Roll

Under veteran Coach Stuart Mathis, the 1980 boys tennis team showed their "love" for the sport.

The young team developed their court style during the season while challenging many seasoned teams.

Troy Robbins, who played number one singles during the season, advanced to the regionals through a new seeding system.

With a 4-12 season record behind them, and immense experience gained, the six returning lettermen should create some static for their future opponents.

Another One Bites The Dust

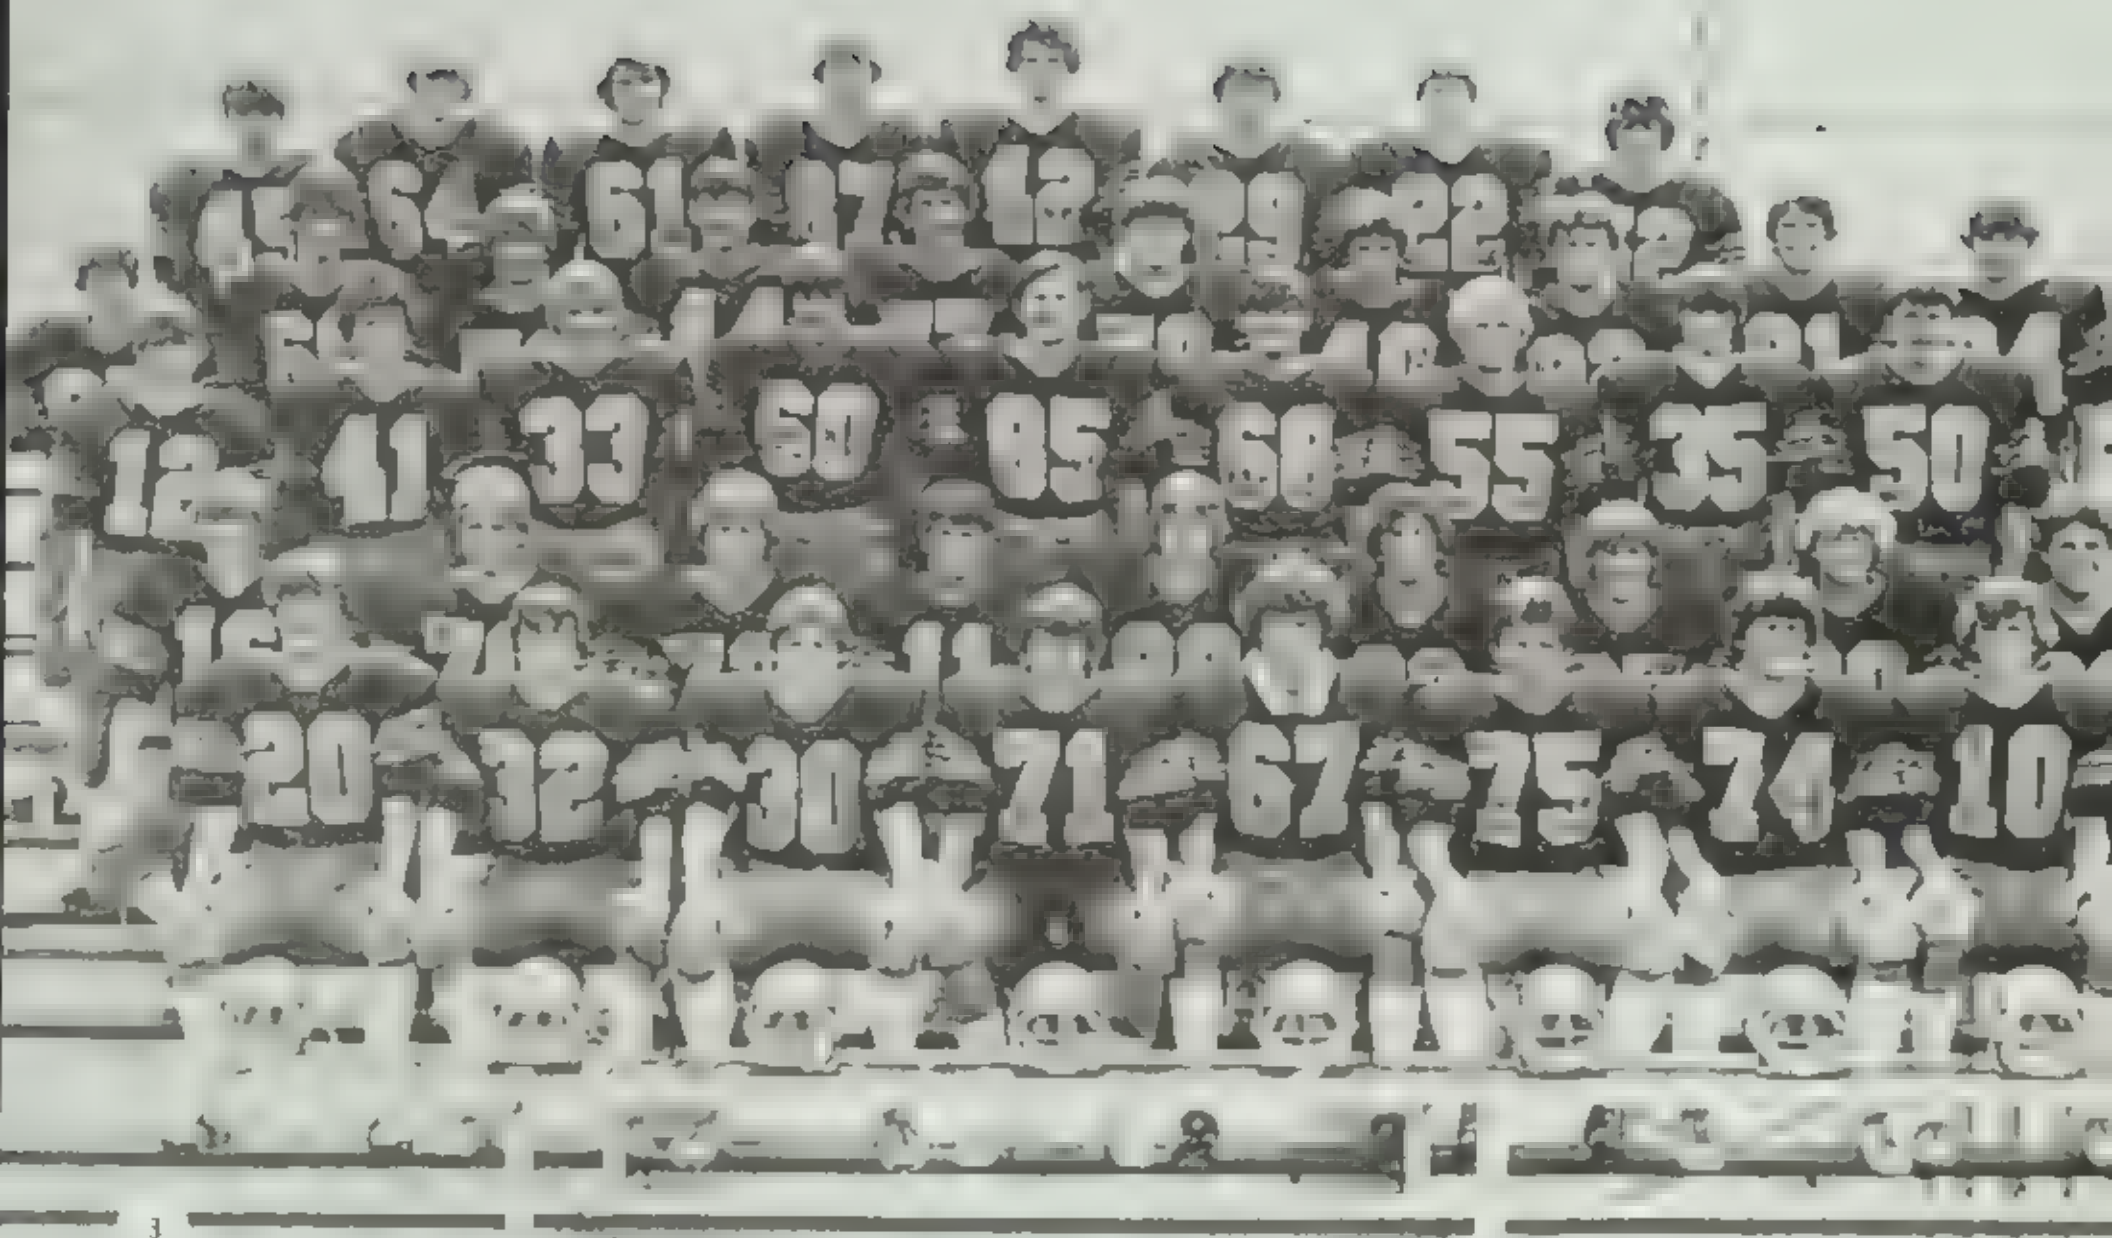

Hey! . . . They're gonna get you too!
DCHS stacks up an 8/2 record.

As the 1980-81 football season opened, Coach Berto began the never ending task of creating a "sound" football team. Assistant Coaches Hanson and Brummett were second in command. Getting into shape was number one on the list. The players began to wonder if all of those long hours of practice would pay off! The season kicked off with an exciting game against the Lewis Cass Kings. The Oracles battled to the finish but still lost by a mere two points. This was just the beginning! The overpowering Oracles never gave up! The next challenge was the old rivals from Carroll. DCHS had nothing to fear. The old black and gold plowed over the Cougars leaving them behind with a final score of 33-0 . . . another one bites the dust! The Oracles went on to win seven more exciting games. The season ended with an overall outstanding record of 8-2, and a 5-2 conference record. Team captains were seniors Steve Hoffman and Tim Justice. It was an impressive year and DCHS held the title as "County Champs". The varsity gridders gave the school and community a team to be proud of!

Super Seasons Ahead For JV

An outstanding overall season record of six wins and only two losses identified the 1980-81 JV football squad as one sure to leave its mark as a varsity team in the coming years. A slightly discouraging start to the season didn't deter the team, as they came back just one week after being beaten by Benton Central to take their spot as county champions by overcoming Carroll, on Carroll High School's field, by a score of 14-8. This marked the upswing of the season, with the team to finish the remainder of their schedule undefeated. They continued the pattern by traveling to Frontier to crush them by a score of 26-0. The following week a hair-raising game against Lewis Cass finished after four overtimes with Delphi on top by a final of 28-20. DCHS easily won their next two games; one over Central Catholic and the other, Twin Lakes. The season wrap-up, against McCutcheon, had Delphi the winner with 14 points to McCutcheon's 13, to finish the DCHS JV football schedule with a winning 6-2 record in 1980-81.

Freshman Team Scores In Potential

After getting their season off to a rather slow start, the 1980-81 freshman football team came back at the end of their schedule with two impressive wins. The first of the two was Battle-Ground, who was demolished by the thirty-six points scored by the DCHS offense, while the defense held the Battle Ground offensive squad scoreless. The following week the squad returned to record a 20-12 win over East Tipp, finishing their season with an even two wins-two losses in conference play. Speaking well of seasons yet to come, Coach Gray predicted that the team's potential, combined with growth and maturity, would produce many winning records in the future.

The Cross Country team of 1980 dealt with a great deal of pain and illness. In spite of this, they had two runners who won Hoosier Conference titles, Bobby Floyd and Brian Fogarasi. All in all Coach Jim Crist said he was satisfied with the season and hoped the team would do well in the future. dL

The athletic program of the 80-81 school year saw more of a change than in the past. This was especially true in the training program. The big change was in the resignation of the local pain healer, Lindsey Hartshorn. Mike Carnaghi became the new athletic trainer. He had plans to change and improve a few things. Another alteration in the program was the weight room's face lift which was possible due to some money raised through a lift-a-thon. Two new pieces of equipment and some carpeting were purchased. Hopefully these new additions will prove beneficial to the school athletic programs.

III

Rookie Coach Dwight Howard turned the varsity swim team completely around. Splashing off a record of 5-9 to a record of 9-6, was quite a task

The team never lacked enthusiasm throughout the year. If one ever went to a swim meet, one could see the spirit of the "whole" team

Led by the five seniors, the team's times dropped tremendously. The managers Amy Brsoman and Janet Draper awarded the team for their accomplishments. These girls had a Kiss Day after practice. Each swimmer who had worked very hard, received a Hershey's Chocolate Kiss.

With returning lettermen, the team appeared to have the potential for an even better record in the 1981-82' season

Experience seemed to be the #1 weakness of the girls swim team. With only 4 returning lettermen, the new coach had to rebuild a new team

Throughout the year there were several "new comers" to the team. This meant a lot of hard work and good coaching. First year coach "Woody" Howard and Abe Alvarez took over the task of "replenishing" the new and old members

Although a record of 0-16 doesn't show much, the team had a lot of close calls, and will defeat those close calls in the 1981-82' season

Varsity Basketball Had Its Ups And Downs

Sometimes . . .
That's The Way
The Ball Bounces!

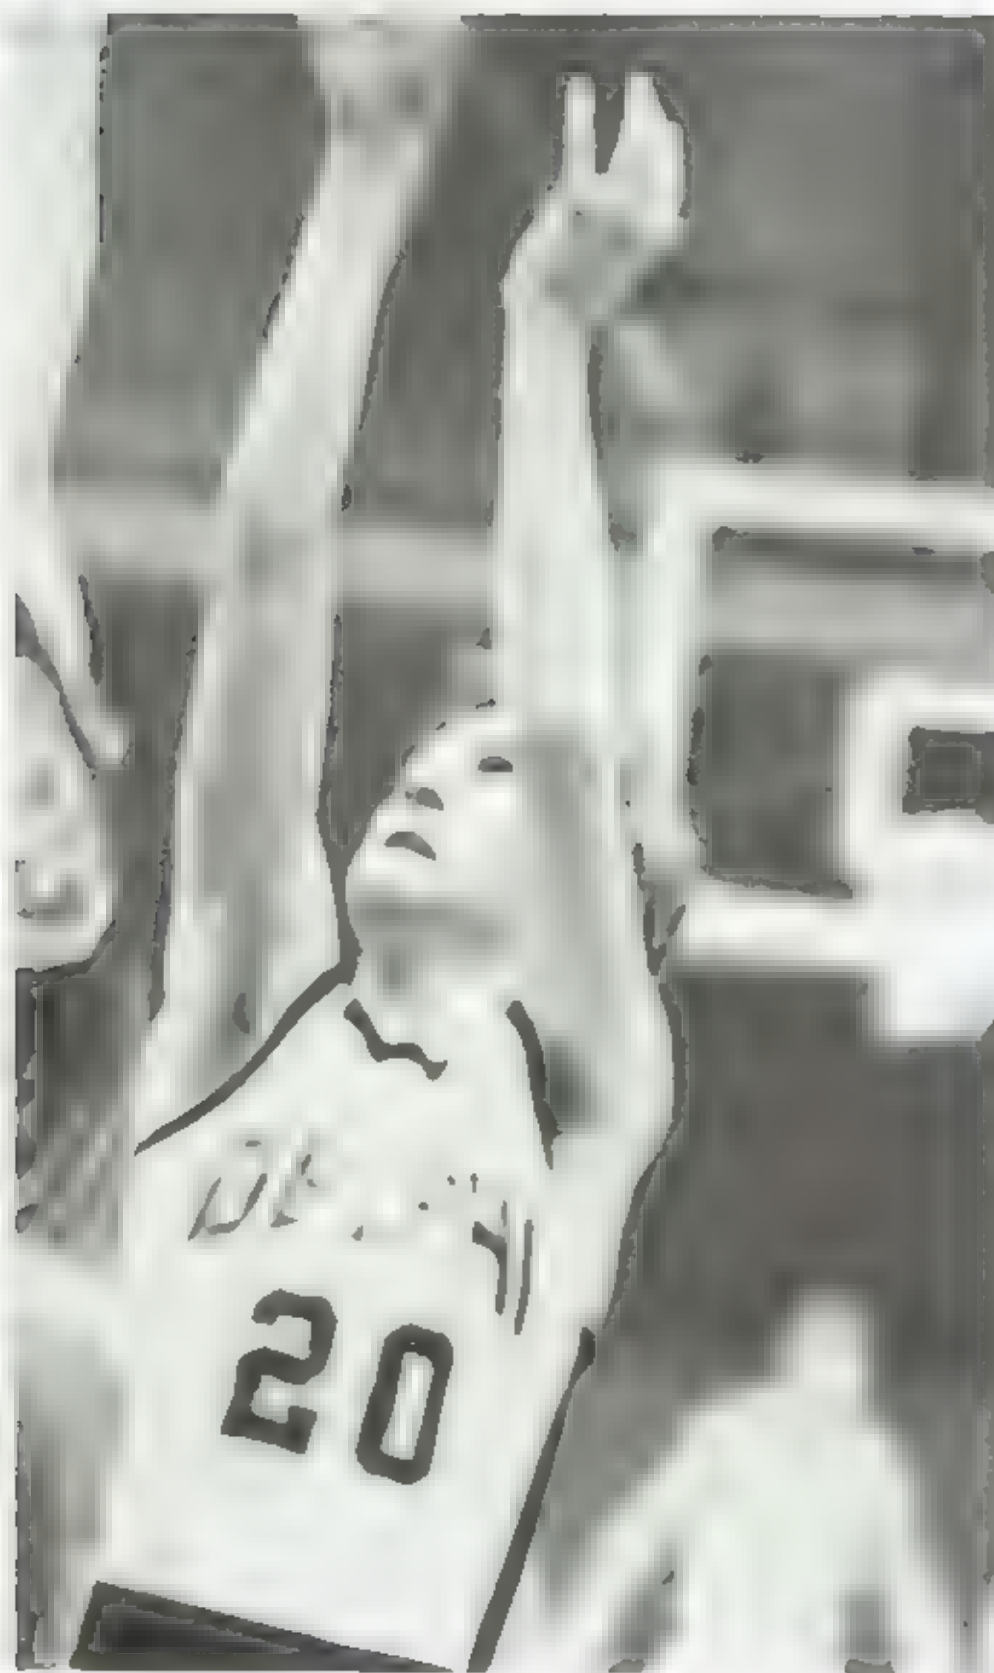

Hard work, enthusiasm, and determination were just not enough for the 80-81 varsity basketball team. With a squad of twelve, Coach Lichtenberger began planning tactful strategies to bring on a hard working team. Long hours of practice, discussing plays, and working on those few missed foul shots were some of the drills which were continually plaguing the members of the team. The Coach was confident, but the ups and downs were definitely a part of the 80-81 basketball season.

Seven seniors returned to the Varsity squad. Coach Lichtenberger stated, "The seniors won more games this season as a class than they ever had in their previous years of basketball. I was proud, after losing several games in a row, how the team gave it all they had and came back to an upset victory against Twin Lakes, Pioneer, and Western Boone."

The team proved that they had what it takes to earn a well played victory. Overall the squad improved a great deal as the season progressed. True, all of the games might not have been victories, but sometimes that's the way the ball bounces! The season was completed with a final record of 7 wins and 14 defeats. Coach Lichtenberger quoted, "As individuals the players matured into fine young men. I hope their experience in basketball was rewarding and carries over into their adult lives!"

J.V. Means Work

The Junior Varsity basketball team of 1981 went through many long hours of hard work. They dedicated their season to learning the game, and as coach Clark Davis put it, "That's what J.V. is for, to prepare for varsity." Although they didn't have a winning season, the coach felt they learned a tremendous amount about the game of basketball.

So the 1981 J.V. team can take their 7 win-13 loss season as an accomplishment and work harder for a victory in the future.

FROSH

The 1981 Freshman basketball team made a good impression on the students of DCHS. The frosh had an impressive 16 wins to 2 losses season, and the two they did lose were very close. As the record proves the team kept it up all season, even though they lost a few players. The coaches added new ones, and still they came out champs of the frosh tourney at Harrison. As the year came to an end, the future looked promising for a few more good seasons of DCHS basketball.

The sound of the referee's hand slapping the mat was a comforting sound to the hard working grapplers of DCHS. Under the guidance of new head coach Phil Brunnett, they posted a terrific season record and also sent two of their wrestlers to the Regionals, Joe Kennedy and Bob Floyd. Bob advanced from the Regional to the Semi-State, where he met some of the best wrestlers in the state.

All in all, the 1981-82 season should prove to be an even better season because of the many returning lettermen.

Girls Varsity Claims Sectional Crown For 1981

On February 28, 1981, the girls varsity B-ball team went into sectionals with the record of 12-4 and the desire to win. This hard work finally paid off as the girls came home the Sectional Champs of 1981.

Determination played the season's key ingredient for the girl's winning season. The season started off good and got even better. With new Coach Dave Rishel and Asst. Coach Karen Hanni, the team knew they had hard work cut out for them. With a record of 15-5 and a trip to the regionals, the girls gave the school something to be proud of.

A lot of the junior varsity girls participated on the varsity squad during the year. The team had an even record of 8-8, and 4-3 in the conference.

Tennis Team Encounters Rough Season

With the largest group of girls out for a tennis team ever, Coach Stuart Mathis' toughest decision was who to place in which position.

Senior Lisa Sanderson soon found herself on top leading the team into their rugged meet schedule.

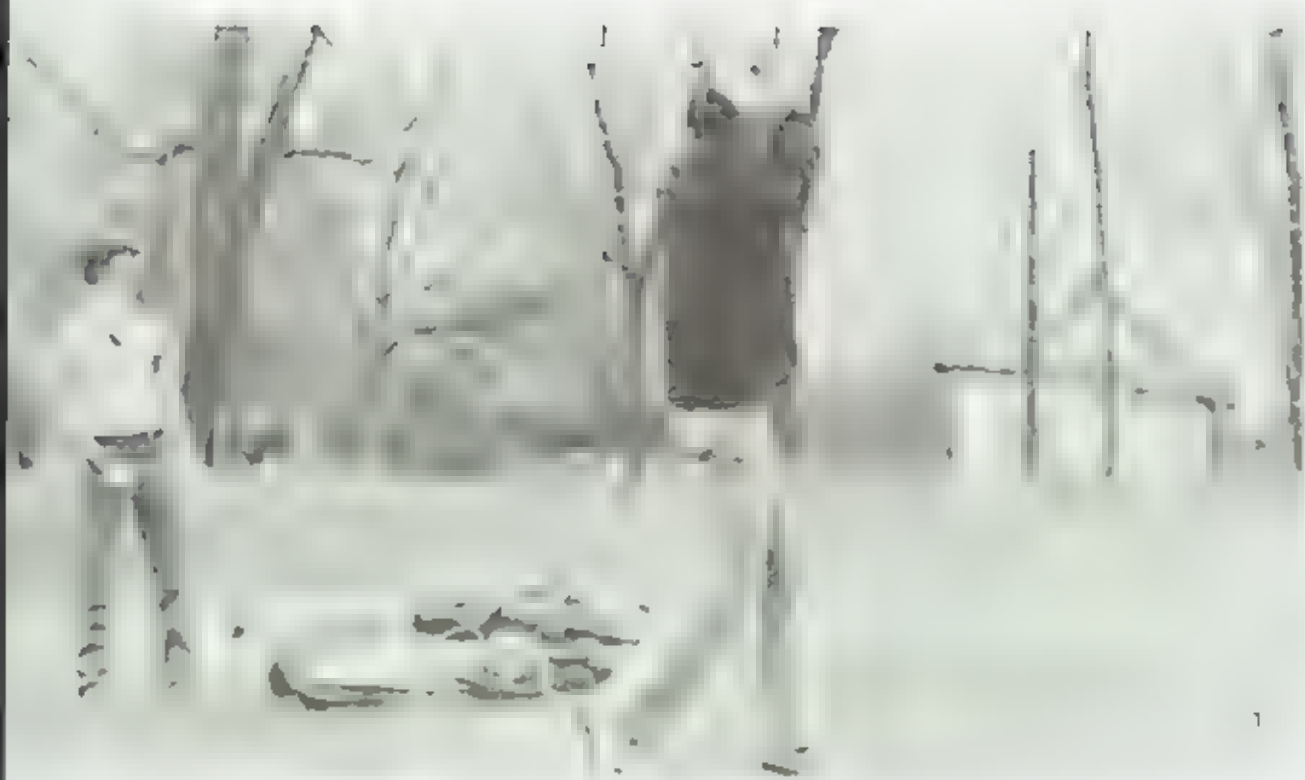

By the end of the season the varsity had compiled a 6-6 record while the JV had a record of 10-2.

Since the varsity team was mainly comprised of a strong group of juniors, the 1982 season has a "bright outlook" according to Coach Mathis. Jld

Golf In '81 At DCHS

The 1981 boys golf team tested their skills on many tricky greens and rough courses throughout the season while challenging their opponents. The large team felt very much at home though, on the Carroll County Country Club course after many long practice hours there

The five varsity members combined to accumulate their season best of 336 for 18 holes while defeating Carroll by 68 strokes.

The 1981-82 squad should prove to be an even greater challenge to their opponents since the team was to lose only two varsity men due to graduation. Jld

The girls track team of 1981 fared better in their meets than they had in past years. The team, as well as individuals, had a good season. At the Logan-Land Invitational, five members won medals, and sectionals saw nine Delphi trackers compete. From this field, both Karla and Katrina Pearson emerged to go on to regional competition. Student Council Does Job Well

Student Council, the representative body for students at DCHS, had a busy year. More active than some of previous years, the Student Council accomplished many tasks. One of their biggest responsibilities was organizing numerous elections. This included homecoming queen and class office elections. The group also selected programs for convocations. They sold carnations for Valentine's day and collected money during the St. Patrick's Holidays for Muscular Dystrophy. tIR

Officers for the year were: Sponsor, Joe Seurnyck; President, Rosanne Kennedy; Vice President, Kathe Lichtenberger; Secretary, Becky Floyd; Treasurer, Tom Gray; and Parliamentarian, Janelle Riley.

NHS Has Unique Meaning For Members

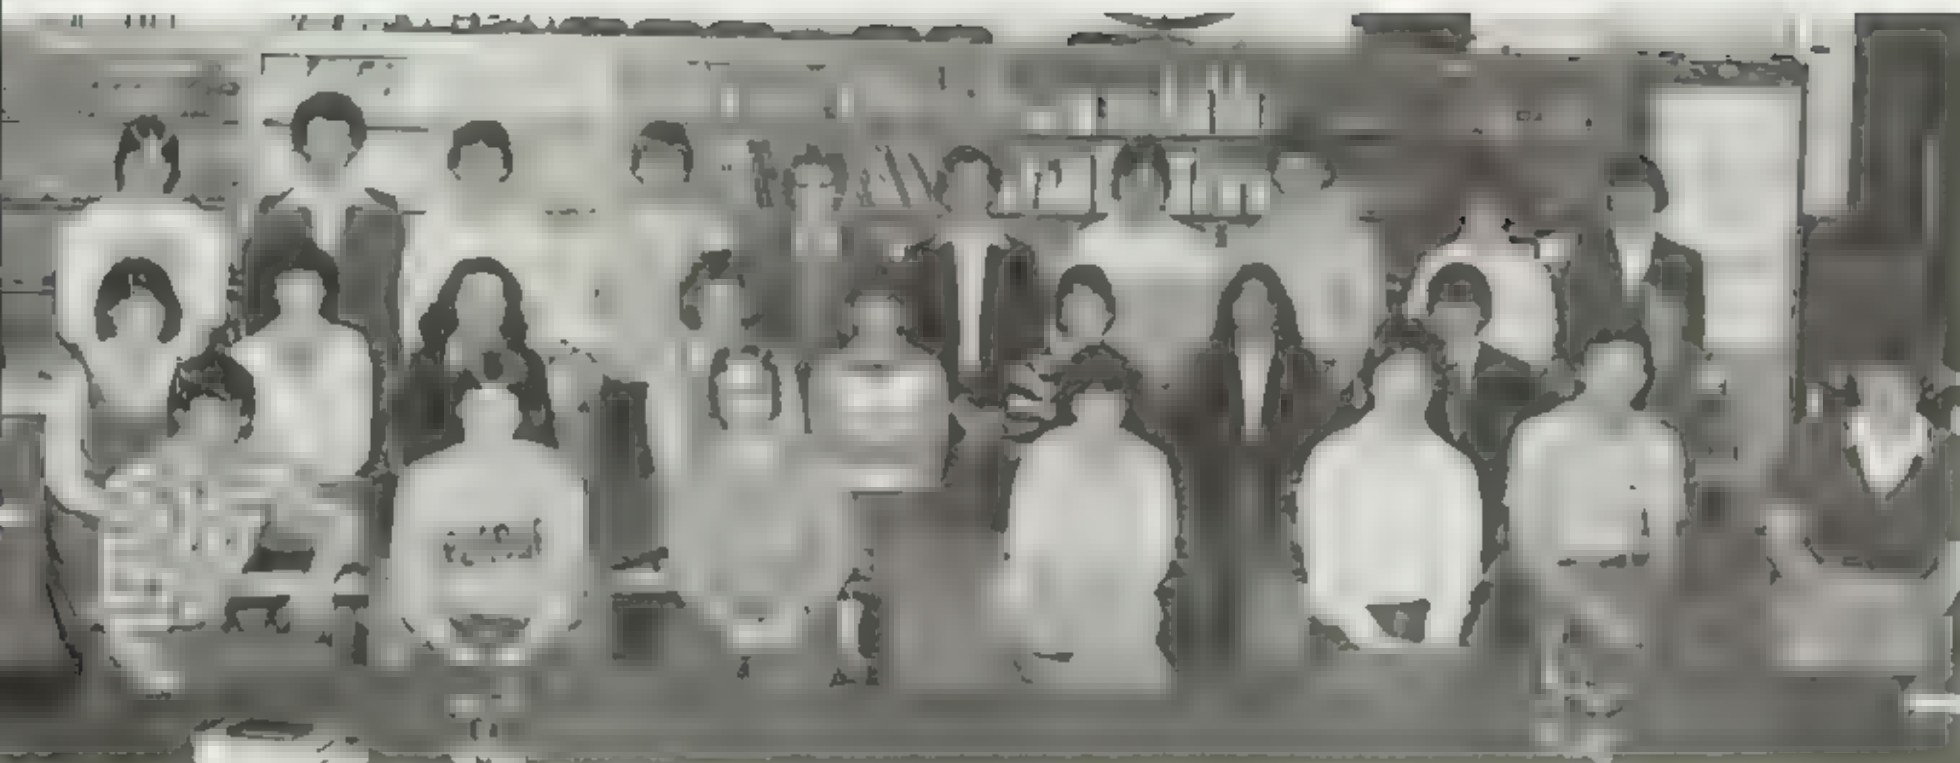

What do you call a club whose requirements for membership are: Character, Scholarship, Leadership and Service? National Honor Society, of course. Department heads cast votes for those most qualified to be in NHS. Juniors and Seniors who were selected were inducted into the club on April 30, 1981.

Senior members of NHS sold candy bars to pay for the new member induction ceremony and for the cords worn over graduation robes. The silk cords signified membership in the club. The group was led by Adviser Abel Alvarez, President Steve Hoffman, Vice President Lisa Hathaway, and Secretary-Treasurer Terry Roberson. tLR

Members engineered activities to include sweets and treats for the Senior Citizens' Meals-on-Wheels; a Halloween party for Purple Turtle scholars; caroling at the Nursing Home; a Christmas party at the Carroll Manor; and a tea honoring Ideal Ladies. The mothers enjoyed a shopping spree with their daughters, while the fathers had their evening of fun at Daddy Date Night. The club had a Cheese and Sausage sale in the fall, and a Rock-A-Thon in the spring to raise money to meet their expenses.

Mrs. Carol Wolfe was the club's advisor. Officers were: Cindy Hinkle, President; Jennifer Dittman, Vice-President; Martha Hinkle, Treasurer; Kathy Britton, Corresponding Secretary; Lisa Jenkins, Recording Secretary; and Julie Zook, Scrapbook Chairman. ch

The Noble Knights Of Hi-Y

Members of the DCHS Hi-Y club should have a personal feeling of satisfaction in belonging to such a noble organization. In association with the Young Men's Christian Association, Hi-Y ministered to the community with special services such as car parking at Camp Tecumseh, ushering at the DCHS Little Theater, selling apple cider to the public, and giving food baskets to needy families.

The noble Hi-Y men set a fine example for non-members with their dedication and hard work.

One More Time . . . Cheerleader Style!

After being kicked, stepped on, dropped, yelled at, and suffering from pulled muscles, the Cheerleaders began to look at their practices as the "Battle of the Bruise."

Going to camp in June, the DCHS Cheerleaders learned new jumps, routines, and skits that were seen at pep sessions during the year. In the fall, they collected money for MD, and held bake sales to pay for outfits, signs, and miscellaneous items needed through the year.

The Varsity and JV Cheerleaders, headed by Mrs. Carol Hartshorn and Miss Deb Ephlin, were chosen for the 80-81 season by some faculty members and a few select students. The Varsity cheerleaders were assisted by the Senior Mount Men, who had the task of lifting them to "Unknown Heights". Freshmen cheerleaders, sponsored by Mrs. Julie Heiner, participated with the others so they could become better acquainted with the sport of cheerleading.

DCHS Pep Block Small But Spirited

Decked out in classy black and gold plaid vests and black pants, the 1980-81 Pep Block proved that a small group can be just as effective as a large one. The club consisted of 50 dedicated girls who found great pride in cheering for their team. The pep block added a lot of color and volume to the DCHS gym during basketball games.

The girls sold "D" pins to earn money to finance their activities throughout the year. Among these activities were a skating party at the Aca-Y-Alla skating rink in Lafayette. The pep club also furnished corsages and boutonnieres for the cheerleaders, the basketball team, and the coaching staff for the sectional.

Sponsored by Miss Debbie Ephlin for the second year, the club was an important part of every varsity ballgame at DCHS. Officers for the year were: Deann Syphers, president; Rene Franek, vice-president; and Martha Hinkle, secretary-treasurer. Sd

Miss Deb Ephlin had the enervating task of supervising the 33 members of Girl's Varsity “D” Club time consuming, but worthwhile.

Club members worked diligently at selling Delphi license plates, holding cake raffles, and taking ticket money at sporting events. This hard-earned money went toward purchasing varsity blankets for graduating senior girls.

Deann Syphers led the group as president, Lisa Jennings served as VP, Sally Brooks as Secretary, and Tricia Starbuck as treasurer.

A Club With A Special Purpose

The Youth Association for Retarded Citizens had the opportunity to aid a special group of people. They held parties and gala events on holidays for the retarded citizens of the community. The club performed other tasks to help these people in various ways; a skating party was also planned for members of Y-ARC. All in all, the club had a busy and successful year

ADD: 1 caring sponsor,
MIX WITH: a need for community involvement.
 If all this is done correctly one will produce a club familiar to many of the residents of the Delphi Nursing Home, who benefited from the organization's theme of Helping the Elderly. FFA Has Busy Year

1980-81 was an active year for the DCHS Future Farmers of America. Among the special activities sponsored by the club for its members were times to drive either tractors or trucks to school and days to wear their distinctive blue and gold jackets. The DCHS club grew rapidly during the school year, enough, in fact, that it was able to earn a pennant and national recognition as a "10 Plus" chapter. Spring, and the coming end of school, was marked by the annual pig roast and a visit from a state FFA representative

Flat Tire? Muffler Bad? Oil Low?-No Problem for C.A.M.

DCHS' Own Auto Repair Shop

Having problems with your car? Well, for a small donation, the Custom Auto Mechanics (C.A.M.) Club will be glad to fix it!

During the last two hours of every day, the grease monkeys worked on vehicles contributed by teachers and other willing donors. Camp Tecumseh, one such donor, gave their trucks and vans to the club for miscellaneous repair work.

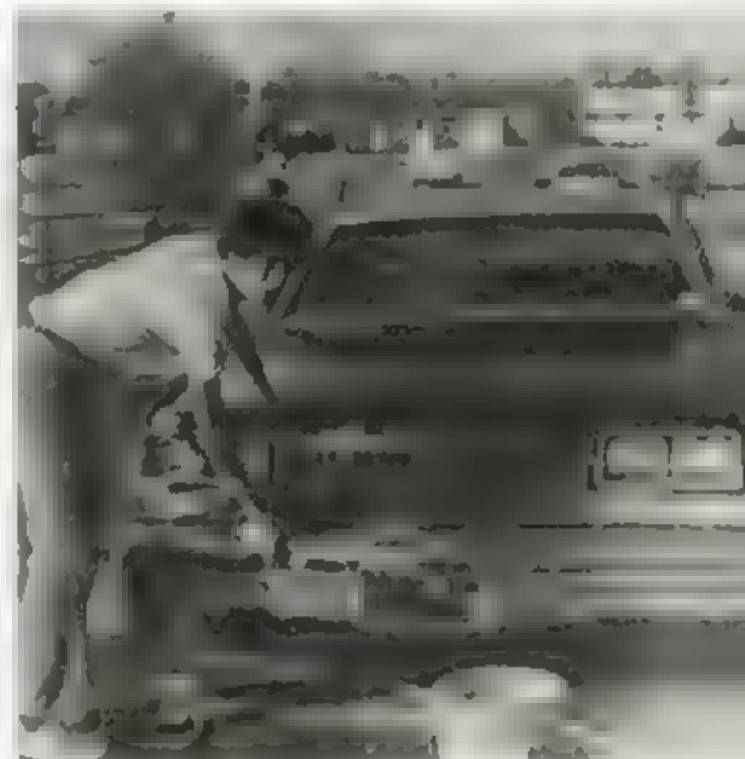

C.A.M. held a car wash in the fall, and raised a whopping amount of money to put towards their field trips taken throughout the year.

President Marty Lake, Vice-President Cecil Dixon, Secretary-Treasurer Bryan McClatchie, Sergeant-at-Arms Dan Smith, and Advisor Bill Gray were the front seat drivers of the 17 member club.

Office Education Association

Interested in a business profession? If so, the Office Education Association (OEA) could prepare you for this venture by letting you apply your business and office skills in various ways

The club sponsored the Homecoming Dance, and sold supplies for "needy" students in the business wing. Each member chose a favorite Secretary, and remembered her on Secretary's Day. During Easter, they made baskets to raffle off for a donation to Special Olympics.

The journalism class put their training to practical use—they published the school paper, The Parnassus. The staff kept their eyes and ears open for newsworthy events and then wrote about them in a near professional manner. The clicking of the camera shutter was followed by film developing and print making. An ever-demanding deadline kept the reporters on their toes, but they were able to produce a well laid out journal of the month.

A Little Taste Of Spanish

The 1980-81 Spanish Club members had several opportunities to learn about Spanish speaking countries. This was accomplished by listening to guest speakers and watching slide presentations. First year Spanish students listened intently trying to put their beginning knowledge to work, while the more advanced students grasped the greater intricacies of the language. Ab

Theta Hits The Big Apple

Theta Trods The Board For Audience Delight

Theta is composed of students who participate in dramatic productions either on or off stage. One must accumulate a required number of earned points to become a member.

A big trip planned by Theta was an exciting week in New York spent seeing Broadway shows and sight seeing in The Big Apple. Going on a shopping spree on 5th Avenue was an experience for both new and old members of Theta. During the New York experience, they also went to the Statue of Liberty, Wall Street, World Trade Center, and many museums.

In November, Theta co-produced with the music department, the musical, Lil' Abner. The production was received with great success. Theta's spring presentation was Bram Stoker's classic, Dracula. sS

Will Travel!

And travel they did! The 1980-81 season marked the first time that a marching band from DCHS had gone to contest. While they were there, they met many other marchers who had travelled great distances to reach Bluffton, Indiana, the site of the contest. Along with making new friends, they placed a second division rating in the contest. "Pretty good, considering the experience gained," noted Mr. Armstrong, the band director.

Suzi Alvarez, Suzi Darnell, and Paula Stone were the new girls in front of the band during the 1980-81 season. Suzi and Paula strutted into the empty boots of twin band majorettes, while Suzi Darnell picked up the baton and became the new twirler. It was quite a challenge for these girls to take, but with the help and cooperation of the ninety-seven other band members, these girls did a fine job. The band as a whole did a great job!

Presenting The . . .

Pom Pon Girls

Being in the Flag and Rifle Corps and/or a Pom Pon Girl wasn't as easy as it looked. There were certain requirements the girls had to keep throughout the year, such as weight watching. Sarah Coventry Jewelry was sold to earn money for their expenses.

During the basketball season, the girls danced their way on to the court with their gold pom pons. They were kept busy during the season with more contests and performances

Flag-Rifle Corps

The Flag and Rifle Corps did many of the routines we saw performed during the halftime of the football games. Sometime in the fall, the squad traveled to Bluffton for a contest, where they received a second rating.

Mrs. Teran Armstrong did a wonderful job in counseling the two squads. She worked closely with them during the summer, and then during seventh hour when school started, to make every performance as flawless as possible

Pep Band Fires Up Spirit

Playing for all the ORACLE home basketball games, the 1980-81 DCHS Pep Band filled the gymnasium with many "toe tappin" tunes

The 27 member Pep Band arrived before the fans so that they could practice their music. Director Royce Armstrong led the band as they accompanied the Pep Block in pre-game warm up, and provided the Pom Pon girls with background "beat" music

The entire Pep Band deserved a hand for giving their time and talent for spirit of the DCHS student body. ch

Singers Among The Best Around

Becoming a member of A Cappella Choir or a quartet was quite an accomplishment. In order to become a member one had to audition in advance. Only the best were chosen thus making an excellent group even better. Dressed in classy outfits these groups shone at

Pop Choir Provides Experience

Pop Choir was a good beginning point for those hopeful singers who someday wanted to become a part of the more advanced groups such as Entertainers and the A Cappella Choir. Members of the Pop Choir learned basic skills and performed at various functions thus enabling them to gain experience and composure in front of an audience. Choral Director Kevin Kayser guided them through the tougher parts and supported them throughout the year. With this experience the members of the choir emerged at the end of the year as better and more confident singers

Entertainers Practice To Perfection

The Entertainers lived up to their name at DCHS and the surrounding area as they sang and danced their way into the hearts of their audiences. When CDHS's Entertainers entered a contest, the judges were usually impressed by their talented performances as the group nearly always emerged winners. Members of the Entertainers soon learned that practice makes perfect, and practice they did. At least one night a week they met to master words and choreography of their songs. Before contests, rehearsals were more frequent in order to polish skills to perfection. Even if the judges did not always give them a ten, the Entertainers could rest assured that their fans were behind them one hundred percent.

Madrigals Sing Their Way To State

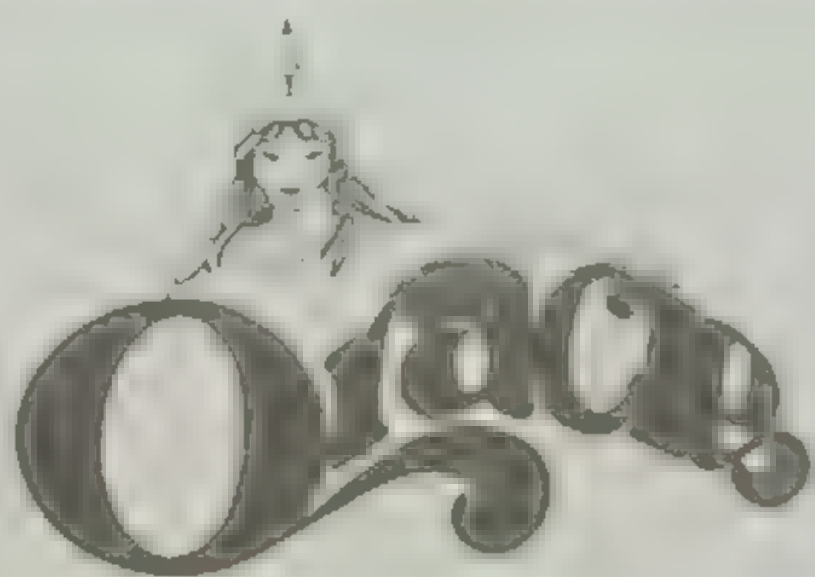

Madrigals were an elite group of singers chosen by audition. Not just anyone could be a Madrigal, he or she had to sing without the benefit of accompaniment. Each person relied on fellow members to provide a guide for themselves

The group sang primarily at contests, but occasionally performed at special events. They were quite successful at district and state contests. The Madrigals received a first at district, which enabled them to go to state, where they received a second rating

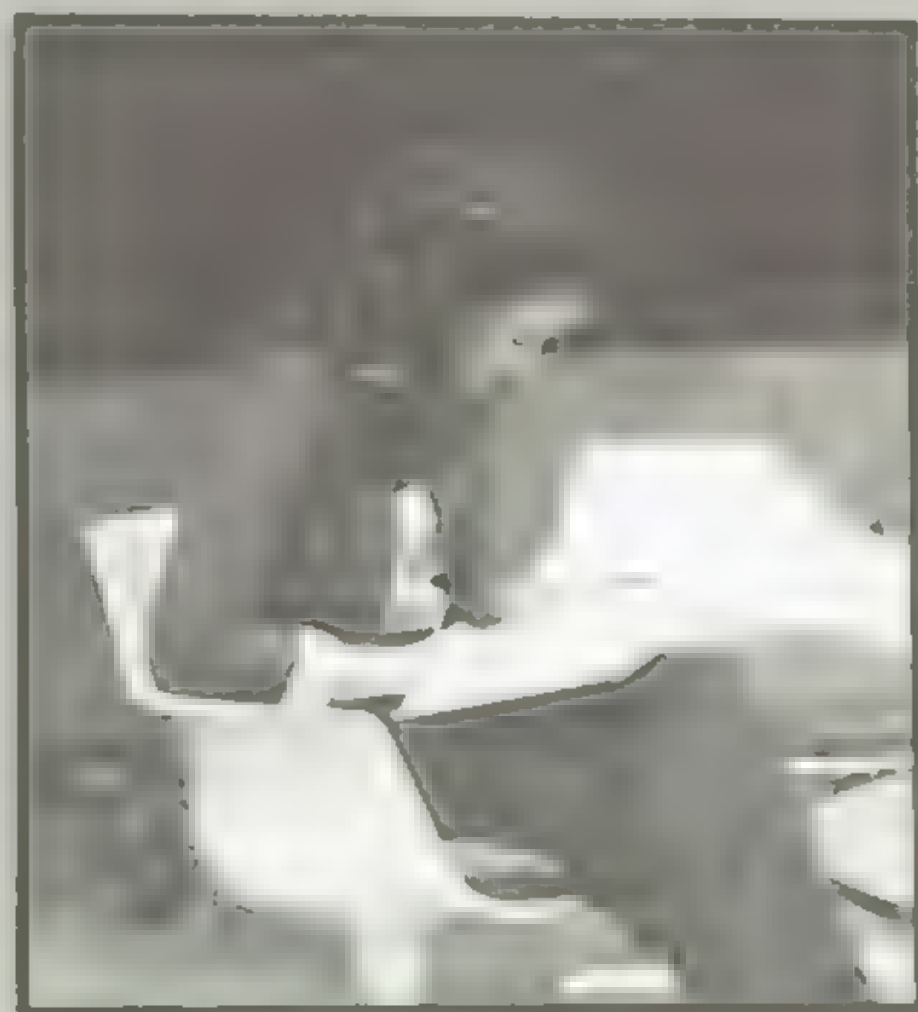

The Madrigals' voices blended together, giving listeners a taste of the special beauty of music. Those who heard them perform were enchanted by the sound

The Class Of 1981

Senior class officers get last-minute instructions from their advisors, Mrs. Laura Baker and Mr. Stuart Mathis.

President:
Sheryl Lynn Duff
Vice-president:
Robert Lee Floyd

1980-81 brought many new and exciting experiences for the senior class as they prepared to face the challenges of the outside world. As the seniors took possession of the mezzanine, they realized that the end of high school was near and they vowed to make this last year the best ever.

The dedicated, hard-working seniors proved their might as they placed first in the Homecoming Spirit Contest for the second consecutive year.

Whether it was music, art, athletics, or academics, the Class of '81 was sure to shine.

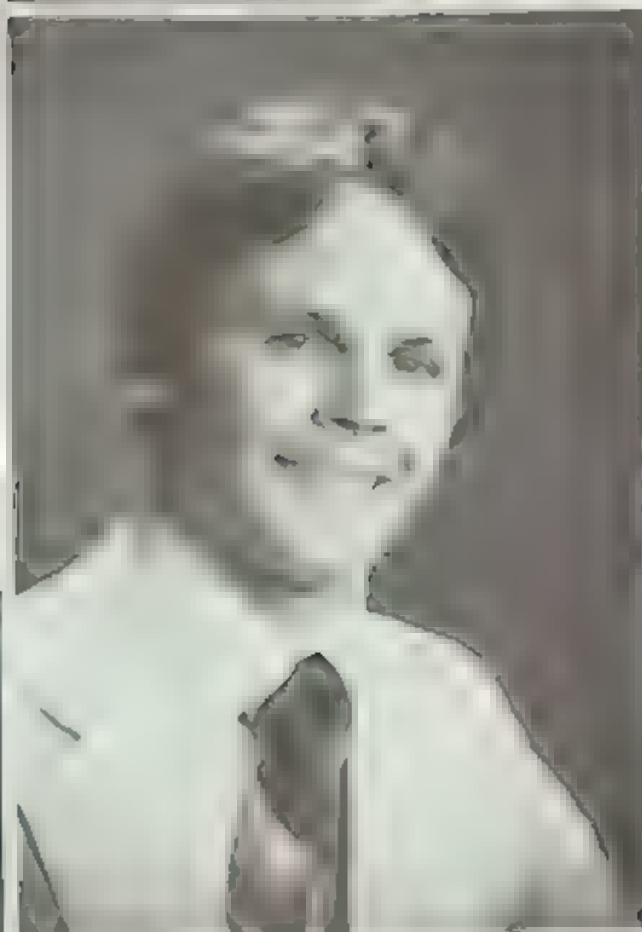

A fun-filled night at King's Island, a memorable Senior Awards program, and a heart-warming Graduation ceremony combined for the exciting climax of another successful year for the Class of 1981. Ed

As they went through their third year in high school, the juniors had some idea of what the real world was like. They now had to take on responsibilities and start making some important decisions. With the help of advisors, John Beach and Julie Heiner, they built a float for homecoming, sold magazines to raise money for the prom, and took part in the variety show.

When the year neared its end, they saw their friends, the seniors, go off into that world beyond high school. It was then they realized that they, too, would be making this journey in a short time

With a year of experience under their belts, and a new problem of seemingly endless homework, the Sophomore Class of 1983 found how fast high school life went as they completed yet another year of studies. This year, however, they had the privilege of watching the DCHS freshmen "struggle".

Class officers and advisors Mrs. Bedeva Bowling and Mr. Bob Tyner, had the privilege of passing out class rings this year, and looking forward to next year's magazine sales.

Frosh Movin On Up

The excitement of meeting new people and new responsibilities were some of the thoughts shared by freshmen students. Getting used to the big "high school" took some time but the young teenagers found their place at DCHS. Class officers were: President Suzi Alvarez, Vice President Alisa Cornell, Secretary Melissa Burkhardt, and Treasurer Peggy Roberson. Money making projects were organized to plan for 84's future years at DCHS. It won't be long when those first year frosh will be movin' on up'

School's Top Administrators

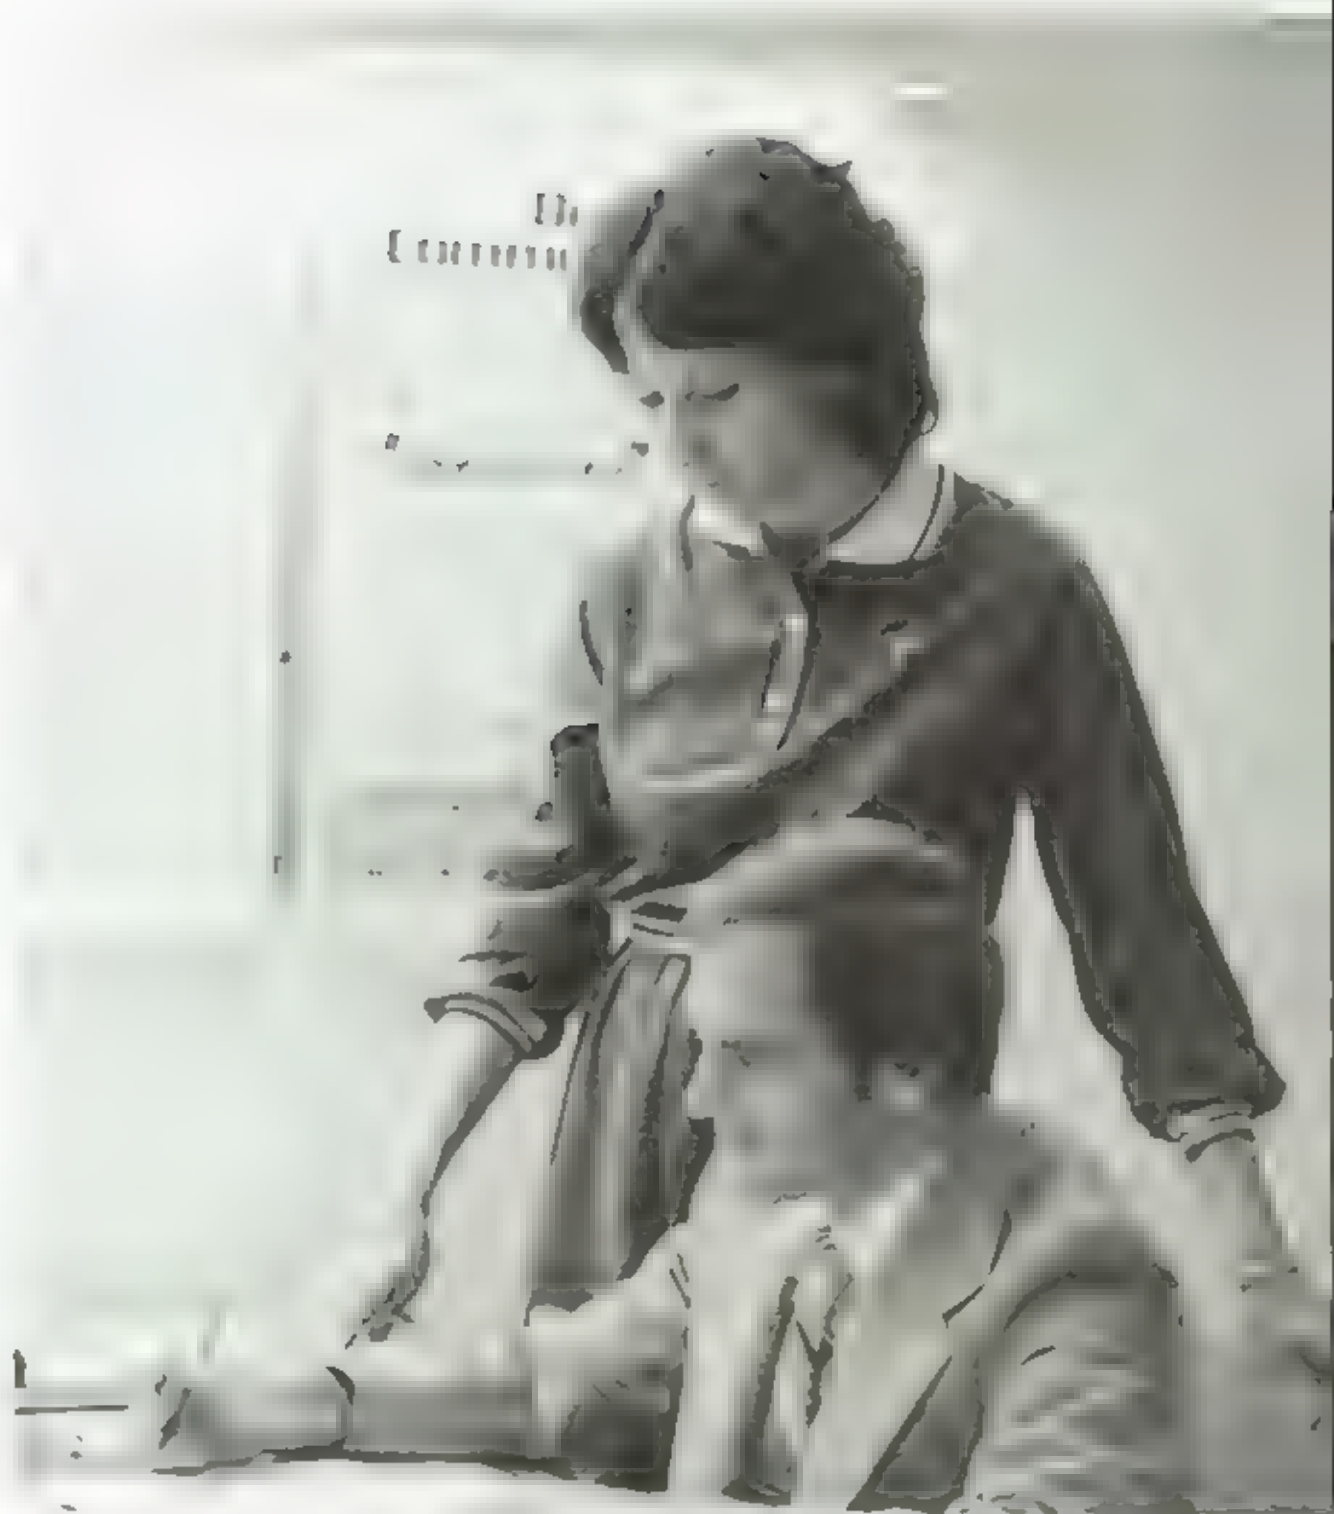

The Board of School Trustees is a policy making organization. They assume the responsibility of securing able teachers, providing a sound educational and guidance program, and to maintain an elastic and updated curriculum to meet the changing needs of youth. They provide adequate facilities and teaching materials. They develop a reasonable budget, considering both the present and future needs of all students in the school community.

Faculty And School Staff

Although teaching subjects varying from Agriculture to Analytical Geometry, the instructors banded together to form the DCHS teaching staff. In spite of the fact that they were united by DCHS, many could not give up their love for their Alma Mater

Instructing in the classroom was not their only occupation; many also doubled as athletic coaches, club sponsors, and class advisors. They also turned into "star athletes for such events as the Senior-Faculty and Donkey Basketball games, and the annual Super-Star competition

A Note Of Thanks

Each year the Oracle staff attempts to produce the best yearbook they possibly can. We, as editors, have been given the responsibility of seeing that this was done. We feel that we have accomplished this challenge. We hope that the 1981 ORACLE captures those moments most precious to you, the reader. The staff has done its best to represent DCHS as it is ...
Here and Now.

It would not be possible to produce a yearbook without the aid of our advertising patrons and we thank them for their support. The DCHS students, faculty, and administration deserve a thank-you for helping us in so many ways and for being so cooperative. We appreciate our subscribers adjustment to a big innovation at DCHS-Fall Delivery!

We would like to thank the entire 1981 ORACLE Staff and our advisor, Mr. Jack Sanders, for a super job this year. You were terrific! We couldn't have asked for more dedicated hard-working people.

Sincerely,
 Sherri Duff (Sd), Senior Editor
 Wes Stone (WS), Junior Editor

Scenario For a Winner

A winner says, "Let's find out;" a loser says, "Nobody knows."

A winner makes commitments. A loser makes promises.

A winner says, "I'm good, but not as good as I ought to be;" a loser says, "I'm not bad as a lot of other people."

A winner credits his "good luck" for winning-even though it wasn't his good luck; a loser blames his "bad luck" for losing-even though it wasn't his bad luck.

A winner listens; a loser just waits until it's his turn to talk

A winner does more than his job; a loser says, "I only work here."

A winner says, "I fell;" a loser says, "Somebody pushed me."
